Inhibitors of a gene APE1 can potentially treat cancer without harming genetic material (DNA). They can also increase the efficacy of chemotherapy while reducing its toxicity to DNA.

Caruso, C. Chen-Tanyolac, M. Strasser, P. Gascard, T. D. Tlsty, S. Huang, E. Choi, and J. R. Goldenring*

Altered stromal fibroblasts in the precancerous gastric lining promote the transition of precancerous metaplastic cells into dysplasia, supporting the development of gastric cancer.

Helicobacter pylori

391 Effect of Helicobacter pylori Eradication Therapy on the Incidence of Noncardia Gastric Adenocarcinoma in a Large Diverse Population in the United States

CME

D. Li, S.-F. Jiang, N. Y. Lei, S. C. Shah, and D. A. Corley

Helicobacter pylori eradication therapy was associated with a significant reduction in the risk of developing noncardia gastric adenocarcinoma based on results from a large, diverse, community-based population. These findings support the potential for substantial gastric cancer prevention through testing and eradication of Helicobacter pylori in the United States.

GI Cancer

402 A Liquid Biopsy Signature for the Early Detection of Gastric Cancer in Patients

X. Guo, Y. Peng, Q. Song, J. Wei, X. Wang, Y. Ru, S. Xu, X. Cheng, X. Li, D. Wu, L. Chen, B. Wei, X. Lv, and G. Ji

Our blood-based extracellular vesicle–derived lncRNA signature can enable clinicians to detect early-stage gastric cancer while it is still eligible for surgical resection, which can be of particular value in patients who may otherwise miss the window for radical surgery. This biomarker may aid in more reliable ability for early diagnosis and population screening of patients with gastric cancer.

414 Molecular Profiling Provides Clinical Insights Into Targeted and Immunotherapies as Well as Colorectal Cancer Prognosis

L. Guo, Y. Wang, W. Yang, C. Wang, T. Guo, J. Yang, Z. Shao, G. Cai, S. Cai, L. Zhang, X. Hu, and Y. Xu

The genomic profiles of large-scale prospective sequencing in a Chinese colorectal cancer cohort highlighted the clinical insights of genomic information in predicting prognosis and improving targeted and immunologic treatment modalities.

429 Lymphatic Invasion of Plakoglobin-Dependent Tumor Cell Clusters Drives Formation of Polyclonal Lung Metastases in Colon Cancer

E. Küçükköse, J. Laoukili, A. N. Gorelick, S. Degner, M. M. Laclé, L. van den Bent, N. A. Peters, A. Verheem, W.-T. Hung, N. C. Frenkel, E. C. E. Wassenaar, N. Lansu, K. J. Lenos, L. Vermeulen, M. Koopman, J. M. L. Roodhart, G. J. P. L. Kops, I. H. M. Borel Rinkes, J. Hagendoorn, K. Naxerova, and O. Kranenburg

Analysis of colon cancer metastasis in mouse models and human tissues shows that lung metastases arise independently of liver metastases from tumor cell clusters gaining access to the lymphatic vasculature.

445 ALKBH5 Drives Immune Suppression Via Targeting AXIN2 to Promote Colorectal Cancer and Is a Target for Boosting Immunotherapy

J. Zhai, H. Chen, C. C. Wong, Y. Peng, H. Gou, J. Zhang, Y. Pan, D. Chen, Y. Lin, S. Wang, W. Kang, K. F. To, Z. Chen, Y. Nie, H. H. He, J. J.-Y. Sung, and J. Yu

ALKBH5 promotes colorectal tumorigenesis by promoting immune suppression via an m⁶A–AXIN2–DKK1 axis. ALKBH5 is a potential therapeutic target for patients with colorectal cancer.

Hepatobiliary

463 Fibrosis Progression Rate in Biopsy-Proven Nonalcoholic Fatty Liver Disease Among People With Diabetes Versus People Without Diabetes: A Multicenter Study

D. Q. Huang, L. A. Wilson, C. Behling, D. E. Kleiner, K. V. Kowdley, S. Dasarathy, M. Amangurbanova, N. A. Terrault, A. M. Diehl, N. Chalasani, B. A. Neuschwander-Tetri, A. J. Sanyal, J. Tonascia, NASH Clinical Research Network, and R. Loomba

Liver fibrosis progresses faster in people with diabetes compared with people without diabetes.

Endoscopy473 EUS-Guided Choledocho-duodenostomy Using Lumen Apposing Stent Versus ERCP With Covered Metallic Stents in Patients With Unresectable Malignant Distal Biliary Obstruction: A Multicenter Randomized Controlled Trial (DRA-MBO Trial)

A. Y. B. Teoh, B. Napoleon, R. Kunda, P. G. Arcidiacono, P. Kongkam, A. Larghi, S. Van der Merwe, J. Jacques, R. Legros, R.-E. Thawee, P. Saxena, M. Aerts, L. Archibugi, S. M. Chan, F. Fumex, A. J. Kaffes, M. T. W. Ma, N. Messaoudi, G. Rizzatti, K. K. C. Ng, E. K. W. Ng, and P. W. Y. Chiu

Endosonography-guided choledocho-duodenostomy and endoscopic retrograde cholangiopancreatography could be options for primary biliary drainage in unresectable malignant biliary obstructions. Primary choledocho-duodenostomy may be preferred when difficult endoscopic retrograde cholangiopancreatoscopies are anticipated.

Prevention and Early Detection483 A Comparison of Risk Classification Systems of Colorectal Adenomas: A Case-Cohort Study

See editorial on page 333.

Newer adenoma risk classification systems may reduce the burden of colonoscopy surveillance at the cost of a small increase in colorectal cancer incidence among low-risk individuals.
