Editorials

405 Time for a New Paradigm for Asthma Management
Miles Weinberger

408 The Secret of the Care of the Doctor Is in Caring for the Doctor
Rachel B. Levine

Original Articles

411 Adherence to Asthma Guidelines in Children, Tweens, and Adults in Primary Care Settings: A Practice-Based Network Assessment
Barbara P. Yawn, Matthew A. Rank, Michael D. Cabana, Peter C. Wollan, and Young J. Juhn
Primary care physicians may be unaware of the burden asthma has on their patients' lives. Almost one-third of patients with persistent asthma did not have prescriptions for daily maintenance medications.

422 Longitudinal Study Evaluating the Association Between Physician Burnout and Changes in Professional Work Effort
Tait D. Shanafelt, Michelle Mungo, Jaime Schmitgen, Kristin A. Storz, David Reeves, Sharonne N. Hayes, Jeff A. Sloan, Stephen J. Swensen, and Steven J. Buskirk
Burnout among physicians was strongly associated with reductions in professional work effort. This may improve physicians' personal well-being but could exacerbate the already substantial US physician workforce shortage.

432 Healthy Lifestyle Characteristics and Their Joint Association With Cardiovascular Disease Biomarkers in US Adults
Paul D. Loprinzi, Adam Branscum, June Hanks, and Ellen Smit
These findings show a dose-response relationship with healthy lifestyle characteristics (regular physical activity, ideal body fat percentage, smoking avoidance, and healthy eating) and various cardiovascular disease biomarkers.

Continued

- 443 Body Mass Index, the Most Widely Used But Also Widely Criticized Index: Would a Criterion Standard Measure of Total Body Fat Be a Better Predictor of Cardiovascular Disease Mortality?
Francisco B. Ortega, Xuemei Sui, Carl J. Lavie, and Steven N. Blair
Excess body weight is a stronger predictor of cardiovascular disease mortality than excess body fat.
- 456 Lubiprostone Is Effective in the Treatment of Chronic Idiopathic Constipation and Irritable Bowel Syndrome: A Systematic Review and Meta-Analysis of Randomized Controlled Trials
Fan Li, Tao Fu, Wei-Dong Tong, Bao-Hua Liu, Chun-Xue Li, Yu Gao, Jin-Song Wu, Xiang-Feng Wang, and An-Ping Zhang
Lubiprostone is a safe and efficacious drug for the treatment of chronic idiopathic constipation and irritable bowel syndrome with constipation, with limited adverse effects in 3 months of follow-up.
- 469 Validating the Diagnostic Accuracy of the Sleep Apnea Clinical Score for Use in Primary Care Populations
Michael Grover, Martina Mookadam, Yu-Hui Chang, and James Parish
Clinicians can reliably use the Sleep Apnea Clinical Score tool to stratify risk in a primary care patient population.
